

LAND BOOM TO FOLLOW EXTENSION OF STREETS

Values Expected to Increase
With Continuance of Railroad Lines Through Old Sixteenth Street in Northwest Section.

Much Interest in Plans for Masonic Temple and Result of Competition Is Eagerly Awaited—New Apartment House.

The real estate dealers in Washington are looking forward with much interest to the dealing in land which they are confident will follow extensive public improvements to be made in the Northwest section of the District.

Land values, it is said, will naturally increase along as the extension of the Metropolitan Railroad lines through old Sixteenth Street, the extension of Thirteenth and Fourteenth Streets to the District line and the improvement of Sixteenth Street to the District line proceeds.

Land Traffic Steady.
Several real estate dealers in speaking of the business of the past year said that the traffic in land was steady. There were several large transactions, but these were not considered in rating the average for the year. While the sales were mostly of lots to residents of the District for building purposes there was also an active trade in houses already on the market. So, taking it all in all, the local land dealers have had a prosperous year and don't mind the little rest they have been compelled to take since the beginning of the Christmas holidays.

Mr. Fairfax, of the firm of Stone & Fairfax, said yesterday that the past year was the most successful they have had in the real estate business. Business, he said, was steady day in and day out for the twelve months. In evidence of this the firm made an average of a little more than one sale each day in the year.

A Good Outlook.
Louis P. Shoemaker, of the Miller-Shoemaker real estate company, incorporated, expressed himself as confident that there will be a lively traffic in District lands the coming year. The first brightening up, he said, may be looked for when the request of the Commissioners for an appropriation of $50,000 to improve Sixteenth Street from Morris Street to the District line is made. The bill providing for this improvement has already passed the Senate. It is endorsed by the Commissioners and the Mount Pleasant and Brightwood Citizens' Associations.

The land for the improvement has already been provided, some by condemnation proceedings and the remainder by donation of real estate owners. In that section, the improvement in that section, Mr. Shoemaker said, must be looked upon as more than a matter of local importance.

It should be considered, he said, a matter of national importance because the improved thoroughfare will skirt the Rock Creek Park, in which is located the National Zoological Park, for several miles.

Continuing, Mr. Shoemaker said the street extension through this section will open up a new territory, between which and Washington there has been practically no means of communication. It is generally admitted, he said, that the development of private property will quickly follow in the wake of the work of grading and laying of new streets.

Increase of Revenue.
Real estate brokers generally consider the best way to increase the tax revenue of the District is for the Government to improve all property by street extension. Improvements by private parties will follow, and this will natually result in an increase of the tax revenue without hardship to anyone.

Fulton R. Gordon also sees a bright year ahead in the real estate business. The opening up of Thirteenth and Fourteenth Streets from their present termini through North Columbia Heights to the District line, he said, will no doubt soon be undertaken. A bill passed the Senate last winter appropriating $12,000 for the grading of the streets, and no doubt the matter will be satisfactorily arranged before Congress adjourns in the spring. When Thirteenth and Fourteenth Streets were improved up to their present termini, private improvement and investment followed quickly along the line of street extension, and it is reasonable that the same thing will happen again. The street improvement along these thoroughfares will also carry with it the extension of the Capital Traction Company's lines, and then the people at the District limits will be in easy touch with the heart of the city.

The Masonic Temple.
Great interest is now being taken in the acceptance of plans for the Masonic Temple. It was expected that the competitors would have submitted their plans on the first of the month, but the time has been extended for thirty days. As heretofore stated, the building will front on Thirteenth Street, looking out on the space made by the intersection of New York Avenue and H Street with that street. The cost of the site and of construction will be nearly $375,000. Particular attention is given to providing a commodious assemblage hall in the building. The need of a suitable hall for meetings attended by 200 or more persons is felt and the management will endeavor to arrange such a meeting place in the building as is desired.

The architects who will submit plans for the New Masonic Temple are William M. Pointdexter, Hornblower & Marshall, Paul J. Pelz, Appleton & Clark, Jr., Wood & Donn and Robert Stead. When the plan is selected, the work of erection will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

Other Improvements.
The board of directors of the National Metropolitan Bank has decided to make some alterations and improvements in the bank building, on Fifteenth Street between F and G Streets. The principal change will be the lowering of the banking rooms from their present elevation above the street to a level with the pavement. This improvement will not in any way interfere with or hinder the business of the bank from being carried on while the work is in progress.

It was the intention of the managers of the bank to erect a new and more suitable building on the present site of the bank, but it was found that this could not be done within a reasonable time, so the project was for the present abandoned.

Some changes are also contemplated by the officers of the Washington Loan and Trust Building, on the first floor of that building. In order to secure the use of more room it has been decided to close the Ninth Street entrance to the building, so as to enlarge the space for the banking business of the company.

The work on the four-story apartment house which will be erected at the corner of Eighth and G Streets southeast by James O'Donnell will soon be commenced. The exterior walls of the building will be constructed of pressed brick. The building will contain five suites of apartments of five rooms each. The basement will be occupied by a drug store.

CHARTER GRANTED.

A certificate of incorporation of the J. A. Whitfield Company was placed on file yesterday in the office of the Recorder of Deeds. The purpose of the incorporation is to engage in the business of commission merchants and jobbers. The capital stock is said to be $20,000, and the principal place of business, 916 Louisiana Avenue northwest.

The incorporators are Joseph A. Whitfield, Somerset R. Waters, James E. Connelly, George M. Mann, and Michael J. Keane.

MRS. BICKS ANSWERS.

Mrs. Teresa Bicks, in answer to the suit filed against her by her husband, Louis H. Bicks, asking for a sale of property which they own jointly, denies that she purchased the real estate, and says that she paid for it with her own money. The property involved includes lots 12 and 13, in block 4, Congress Heights.

BOSTON WANTS HELP IN GETTING COAL SUPPLY

Use of Lighters at the Hub
Navy Yard Suggested.

An appeal from the city of Boston to the Navy Department to help get coal was answered by Secretary Moody yesterday. According to the representations made to the department, Boston Harbor is full of vessels containing coal, but all the docks at which there is deep enough water to permit these vessels to unload are congested with other business.

It was suggested to the department that the colliers be permitted to disembark their supplies at the docks of the Boston Navy Yard. Rear Admiral M. L. Johnson, the commandant of the yard, was asked for an opinion as to this suggestion, and he informed the department that it would be unwise to grant the request, as heavy coal-laden wagons would foul the roadways in the naval reservation. He suggested, however, that the colliers could come alongside three available docks at the yard and transfer their cargoes to lighters, which could carry the coal to wharves where the water was not deep.

Secretary Moody has approved Admiral Johnson's suggestion, and it is hoped by the department a sufficient number of lighters will soon be delivering coal at points where it is needed on the Charles and the Mystic Rivers.

SUES SAVINGS BANK.

William R. Staff, through his counsel, Horner & Smith, yesterday filed suit in the Supreme Court of the District against the officers and board of directors of the Capital Savings Bank, to recover $2,000. It is stated that the amount named was deposited in the Capital Savings Bank some time ago by the plaintiff. On November 25, last, he says, he gave thirty days' notice of his desire to withdraw the sum. At the expiration of that time Mr. Staff says payment was refused.

AN ELABORATE CHRISTMAS TREE.

The members of the Union Veterans Union have been invited to view an elaborate Christmas tree in the residence of the quartermaster general of the association, Ferdinand Bogia. The tree is probably the most beautiful erected at Christmas in this city. Its decorations represent the collection of years, and to duplicate it would cost in the neighborhood of $500. The members of the association take great pleasure in viewing the tree, and look forward every year to an invitation to the general's residence for this purpose.
